NEWS RELEASE

Chief of Police Mike Styner

Date: May 4, 2009

On May 6, 2008 the Ocean Shores Police Department in conjunction with the North Beach High School, TADD (Teens Against Destructive Decisions) will be presenting a Mock Crash at North Beach High School. The Mock Crash is one of many programs put on by TADD in hopes of educating today's teens to make the safe and the right life decisions.

The Ocean Shores Police Department has partnered with TADD on several projects and hopes that this presentation will enlighten students to the consequences of drinking and driving. The Mock Crash involves police, fire, Life Flight airlift (weather permitting) and coroners response, demonstrating what occurs at an alcohol related collision scene. A memorial service is held following the collision investigation to show the devastation that occurs as a result of drinking and driving.
